Ronak Jogeshwar

Institutions like Harvard, Stanford, and MIT require a learning mindset, a passion for equity, and a strong internal theory of change. It is too hard to craft a story of self that builds a deeper connection with the reader. Prof. K.P Singh's mentorship has been a soundboard, offering constructive responses and positive perspectives while keeping my authentic story intact. Working on my application under his guidance allowed me to present my ideas and personality thoughtfully while attending to my national duties and personal commitments
